NCA Portfolio Company Green Logistics Joins Forces with Doeleman Logistiek to Strengthen Its Logistics Platform

Amsterdam, July 8, 2026 – Novastone Capital Advisors (NCA) is pleased to announce that its portfolio company, Green Logistics, has joined forces with Doeleman Logistiek, a third-generation family-owned logistics company based in Waddinxveen, the Netherlands.

The partnership represents an important milestone in Green Logistics' continued growth strategy, bringing together two highly complementary businesses with shared values, strong customer relationships, and deep expertise in logistics and supply chain solutions.

As customer demands continue to evolve, Green Logistics is expanding its capabilities to provide broader, more integrated logistics services. By joining forces with Doeleman Logistiek, the combined group gains additional capacity, operational expertise, and opportunities to support customers with increasingly complex logistics challenges while maintaining the high level of service both companies are known for.

Green Logistics and Doeleman Logistiek will continue operating as sister companies, collaborating closely to share expertise and best practices while preserving the trusted relationships, entrepreneurial spirit, and personalized service that have defined each business for decades.

Beyond the strategic fit, the partnership is built on a strong cultural alignment. Both organizations share a people-centric mindset rooted in trust, integrity, direct communication, and long-term partnerships—creating a solid foundation for sustainable growth together.

"Joining forces with Doeleman Logistiek is an exciting milestone for Green Logistics," said Mike Hindi, Chairman of Green Logistics. "From our first conversations, it was clear that we share the same values, the same entrepreneurial mindset, and the same commitment to building lasting relationships with our customers. Together, we're creating a stronger platform with broader capabilities while preserving the personal service and family culture that define both businesses"

This partnership marks another important step in Green Logistics' growth journey since partnering with NCA. By bringing together complementary businesses with shared cultures and long-term visions, the company is further strengthening its position in the Dutch logistics market while creating a platform for continued expansion.

About Green Logistics

Founded in 1972, Green Logistics is a Netherlands-based logistics and supply chain solutions provider offering warehousing, fulfilment, freight forwarding and value-added logistics services. The company partners with customers across a wide range of industries - particularly retail and e-commerce - delivering tailored logistics solutions through a technology-driven and customer-focused approach.

Learn more about Green Logistics: https://glgbv.com/en/

About Novastone Capital Advisors

Novastone Capital Advisors (NCA) is an operator-led buyout firm that identifies, acquires, and grows privately held small and medium-sized businesses. Through its global network of entrepreneurial CEOs, NCA partners with business owners to preserve their legacies while creating long-term value through operational excellence, strategic growth initiatives, and long-term investment.

Learn more about Novastone Capital Advisors: https://novastone-ca.com/